JOYOUS CIVING.

There is hardly a pleasure in life which can compare with the joy a generous man or woman feels in conferring happiness on There is no doubt that this gives more straws. pleasure to the shooter than when he has to go up and carefully search in the black disk for the mark of his bullet,

So in giving, the benefactor feels a greater joy when he sees the full effect pro- getting a grap on the New South ? duced by his gift. This is what the contributors to THE EVENING WORLD'S Christmas Tree will experience. They will see a poor child transformed into an eager, happy one. Under the glorious halo of the cone of green, with its points of glittering light and gay festoons and presents galore, those worn, pinched little faces will be reads and fasts. irradiated with the most joyous expectancy, and as they step blithely forward to become the proud possessors of what Santa Claus bas brought them, they tread as if on air. and the beauty which happiness brings to any face will gleam on theirs.

And can there be any one who would not love to work this sweet transformation of poor children into little princes of joy? None may say he would gladly give an he could, for there is not one who cannot give "butter marked down !" something. Become a stockholder in this giorious speculation of Santa Claus, and you will enjoy your premiums immensely.

AND NOW?

SITTING BULL is dead. The leading spirit of the Sloux and the one who had chief sway over the redskins has gone to the Happy Hunting Grounds. What effect this will have upon the Indians it is impossible to say with any certainty. But there is great reason to believe that this sudden blow at their head will shock the braves into quiescence. SITTING BULL has rampaged around a great deal in his career, and was reported to be meditating a descent into the Bad Lands with a body of 300 Indians to effect a union with the hostiles Gen. MILES very wisely deemed it time to make a move, and troops were sent to arrest the troublesome chief. In resisting arrest he was laid low by a bullet, as was also his son, Chowroot.

It may be that the Indians will be stung to instant action by this assault. He is now reported to be engaged in organizing a company of English capitalists to purchase and develop some of the con! and iron regions of the South. Her Grace does not look with a kindly eye on this diversion of her income. But MARLBOROUGH will get through alg money in one way or another and this manner of putting it out seems rather to his credit.

The crusade of WARNER MILLER and his fellow-dissenters is declared to be directed not against PLATT, but against one-man power in the Republican party. As that one-man power happens at present to appertain to Mr. PLATT, the dissenters are likely to receive generous encouragement, even outside their immediate party lines.

Dissatisfaction Over the Recent Loeber-Goldner Decision.

hart, in the four-round go between D. Loeber and Joe Goldner, both of the Brooklyn Athletic Club, has caused much diseatisfection. It is claimed that Goldner outpointed Loeber, but did not get the decision. Some want the merch fought over again, while Goldner's friends want the prize given to their man on general principles. There was novely at Koster & Bial's concert hail last night in the shape of A. T. Friscoff, a musical "artist," and the Youeds troupe of Japanese. The programme, which was long and interesting, also included the Marks Brothers, Australian athletes; the human Satters and the Samson warriors. Carimencits, whose glory seems to be of a singularly luck-haustloe nature, danced to her customary agile manner and won some rounds of appliance. HUBER'S PALACE MUSEUM.

"The Mikado" was sung upon the stage of Huber's Palace Museum, in East Fourteenth street, yesterday by the ideal Opera Company, an organization that has already presented "Olivette "and "The Mascot" at this nouse. A very good vandeville company also appeared. It included Barry and Bunnon, Ripley and Risber, Yank Omo, E. Banker Lin and Ella Walters, Dalton and Watts, Frank Foster, Latte (free and others. Lotta Grace and others.

EIGHTH STREET THEATRE. The Brotherhood Combination supeared at the Eighth Street Theaire last night, and the cutertainment seemed to satisfy the audience. Among those who contributed to the programme were George Dixon, Jack Withams and Thomas O'lionke, Janes Haslam and Iteuben Colline, the American Four, Lottie Gisson, Long and Sharpe, Tony Ryan, Couldings, the Raines, Ward and Lynch, and sudience was large and apparently interested, E. J. Hisson's "grand scenic end comedy success" was well presented. There was a river of real water, in which "every kind of manine crait" was introduced. The members of the east did full justice to the play. GRAND OPERA-BOUSE.

GRAND OPENA-HOUSE.

Farce-comedy always draws large audiences to the Grand Opera-touse. The patrons of the lightheatre are very fond of laughing attractions, and there are very fond an amany as hery need, Last might halen and Hart appeared in their well-ventilated "Later Co," which is from the pen—if a lare, comedy can ever be said to come from a pen—oi. AMBUNG THEADER.

A farce called "Die Beste Kur" was presented at the Amberg Toracre rast night. It is from the pen of G, was Moser and Gits Gradt, and appeared to amuse the artifece. The story deals with Gottlien Hempel, a rich merchant, the formance members of wase household all suffer from nerves. He feights poverty and takes them into the country, where they find health and lose "are." BROADWAY TREATRE.

The change at Niblo's lost night was a deriledly radical one. The dramatic and spectrocular "Nero" was succeeded by Mohroe and Roce in "My Aunt Bridget, "a very athletic larce-comedy that has been placed at other theatres with much success. There was a large suddence at Niblo's and the laughter was incessent. Monroe and Rice have never done better work, and the supporting company was a very good one. Many hight specialities were introduced.
